

Heckington St Andrew's C of E Primary School Newsletter

Dear Parents,

Happy New Year! It has been lovely to hear all about your Christmas holidays and great to see the children back in school keen to begin their new learning projects. Teachers will send home a project overview so you can see your child's focus for learning this term and there will, as usual, be plenty of opportunities for you to join in with our learning adventures through the term.

It came to our attention last term that there were children and adults in school before school hours. This concerned us with regard to keeping your children safe. The playground will be open as usual but the doors into school will be closed until staff come out to greet your children. The main office will be open so please come there if you need to speak to someone. We ask that parents do not enter school except through the office in order to adhere to safeguarding guidelines and fire safety.

We look forward to working together with you again this term as we begin our adventure in 2017.

'It has been brought to our attention that a number of dishes for W/C 9th January onwards did not have the option to press the 'A' symbol next to the dish and therefore did not display the correct allergen details. If you have ordered meals for this term and would like to check any of the details of the allergens please do not hesitate to contact us and we can email you a full list of dishes and associated allergens.'

Our Value this term is:

Thankfulness

Parent View is a short online questionnaire that helps us to know what your opinion of aspects of our school are. This questionnaire also informs Ofsted of your views. We know that lots of you are very happy with our school and your child's learning from your verbal messages, emails and cards etc. Please add these views to the questionnaire as we feel that, at the moment, the results of the questionnaire do not reflect the true picture of our school. The governors, staff and I really urge you to spend 10 minutes completing the survey for us. If you want us to help set you up on a school computer we can do that in school, and this can be available after school or in the mornings. Please find attached a leaflet with more information. Thank you
