

Heckington St Andrew's Church of England Primary School Newsletter

5th December 2019

A huge thank you for supporting our St Andrew's Day/ Christingle service in Church last Friday. It's always lovely to share these events with our families and the local community.

The children are looking forward to tomorrow's Bedtime Stories with Santa. Don't forget your pyjamas .and a teddy bear!

Huge thanks to Donaldson's DIY shop who have kindly donated creosote to paint the shed and to Matt Brown who has given up his time to do it! It looks like new!

So much to report on lately in our scientific enquiry across the school.

Silver Birch participated in a live Dr. Who Space special to explore translucency, opaque materials and how light reaches different parts of our planet at different times.

Oak class have been using forces to pull that pesky turnip out of the ground- looks like they were successful as they are now using tools to explore other crops pulled from the ground.

Rowan class have been experimenting with conductors and insulators in the build up to some hand made ice cream work - gloves much needed! Chestnut have been exploring the parts that make up soil and the journey particles have been on to become the earth we have in our school grounds. A busy, practical week for science in school. What a brilliant showcase of what it looks like to work as a scientist!
